VOLUNTEERING – A PLAYHOUSE SQUARE LEGACY The Kegley – Cudworth Connection

Head Usher Sue Cudworth and her daughter Sophi were inspired to begin their volunteer careers at Playhouse Square by Sue's parents: Chuck and Nora Kegley.

Chuck and Nora volunteered from 1991 until retiring in 2016 and had a combined 3,595 hours of service!

To honor Sue's parents (and Sophi's grandparents), they wear Chuck and Nora's name tags inside their blazers!

Thank you Chuck and Nora!
Thank you Sue and Sophi!

R-E-S-P-E-C-T!

We have been made aware of several instances where our volunteers and staff do not feel that they are being treated with respect or shown appreciation for what they do.

The information below was originally printed in the September 2022 newsletter. Please remember to treat not only guests, but fellow volunteers and staff with kindness and courtesy.

Before an organization can provide excellence in external customer service, the members of that organization must first respect each other and the important role each person plays. All levels of the organization must value treating others with respect and civility.

WE ARE NOT A TEAM
BECAUSE WE
WORK TOGETHER
WE ARE A TEAM BECAUSE WE RESPECT
TRUST AND CARE
FOR EACH OTHER

It is not about treating others the way you would like to be treated; it is about treating others the way they would like to be treated.

- Remember – it isn't what you say, but how you say it
- Treat people with kindness, courtesy and politeness.
- Don't insult people or talk behind their back.
- Treat people the same no matter their race, religion, age, etc. All people you interact with should be treated equally.
