

Earn RedCoat Hours for Remote Volunteering!

RedCoats – we are so inspired by the way you are still volunteering in the community while away from Playhouse Square! So many of you are making masks and working to provide food and help to those in need.

We would like to offer RedCoat Volunteer Hours as a thank you for the work you are doing on your own to help our community.

You are welcome to submit hours worked on your own to aid the community during this time. Some examples of tasks are, making masks, delivering food, and running errands for those who are not able to leave their homes. These hours should be volunteering you have done on your own, not as a volunteer for another organization (like the Food Bank).

To Submit Hours:

- Past Hours – please estimate the hours you have spent since March 9th and email redcoats@playhousesquare.org with your name, the number of hours, and a description of what you were doing.
- Future Hours – please track the hours you spend volunteering in this way and email redcoats@playhousesquare.org with your name, the date, number of hours on that date and a description of what you were doing. (You are welcome to send an email every week or two, no need to update daily).

Submitting these hours is not mandatory, just a way for us to recognize and thank you for your work.

Mission Driven Message

In case you missed it on Facebook last week, we are encouraging all of our volunteers to join us in the #psqmissiondriven campaign. Feel free to submit a photo or short video to the project TODAY for a chance to be featured!

- Photo – take a photo of you holding a paper that says #psqmissiondriven
 - The # will make it searchable for social media users.
 - Follow that with psqmissiondriven (no spaces).
- Video - please record a landscape video sharing a message you would like to say to our audience (e.g. We miss you!, We can't wait to have you back soon!) You are welcome to hold a sign with the #psqmissiondriven message as well.

Please click the photo or link below to see the initial campaign message.
