SENSORY-FRIENDLY PERFORMANCE OF FROZEN

Supported by Denise G. and Norman E. Wells, Jr., Playhouse Square proudly presented a sensory-friendly performance of Disney's FROZEN on Saturday, September 3rd. We welcomed family and friends to experience the show together.

Sensory-friendly performances are intended for individuals with sensory sensitivities, autism spectrum disorders and other sensory, social and cognitive challenges or issues.

All are welcome in a judgment-free environment.

PLAYHOUSE SQUARE TOURS

You may occasionally see a Tour listed on the schedule. These are private tours arranged for specific groups. Public tours will begin again (hopefully) by the end of the year.

You must be a trained Tour Guide to volunteer for one of these tours.

At this time, training classes to become a tour guide are not being offered. We will put a notice in the newsletter when they are available.

VOLUNTEER ROOM

We've had reports of RedCoats taking family / guests to the Volunteer Room. As we prepare to move into our new Volunteer Room, please remember, the space is for volunteers only!

NURSING MOTHER'S ROOM

The Egyptian Room is available for use by nursing mothers. It is located in the Palace Cut Through – just up the steps from the State Lobby to the right!

The door is kept LOCKED during performances. Ask a House Manager to unlock the door if needed and station an usher outside the door.
